ALL ABOUT SHOES!

Gentlemen are Requested not to Read this

We do not boast of Auction Shoes
At shillings six a pair,
For sure no lady would them choose
That wants a shoe to wear.

Now very much we feel inclin'd
Such Gaiters to expose,
They are not good, and you will find
Them bursting round the toes.

Such ill-made Shoes you could not wear
We often with them meet;
Just made to sell, they rip and tear
When walking in the street.

A lady passing by one day
Was caused a deal of trouble,
Superbly dress'd in garments gay
And Shoes not worth a bubble.

As the dear lady thought,
Until her feet protruding though
Proclaimed them good for naught.

We pay the prices for our work
To have it honest made.
To worthy men who are in truth
The masters of their trade.

And we can boast of extra nice
Of beautiful and neat,
Of fairy Shoes at fairest price
To decorate the feet.

JACOB SNYDER, TAILOR,
The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!

I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor as follows:

Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined, always please.

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.

Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.

Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it and I am not dependant upon any one to lift me out of the suds.

Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.

Call on me, in the corner room of the "Brant House." Give me a trial and you will go away pleased.

Select Tale.

THE THREE BROTHERS.

A Tale of Union and Disunion.

James resembled one as much as the other and no more. He was tall in stature, active, cheerful, good-looking and amiable. He was generous as Richard and mild as Joseph.

It was very beautiful to observe the forbearance of Joseph and James toward Richard, in his frequent outbursts of passion. Scarcely ever did they offer him the mildest reproof, although sometimes his temper was hardly to be borne with, as we shall see.

It frequently happened, in the spring of the year, that the stream which formed the water-power of Joseph's mill became so swollen with freshets, that the waste-weir was scarcely sufficient to carry away the superfluous water. At such times the mill was usually kept in motion night and day; but even then it was not an uncommon circumstance for the mill pond to overflow a portion of Richard's land.

On one occasion, after the early freshets had subsided, and Richard had sown some choice seed for spring wheat in the field bordering the pond, there came a heavy rain which lasted two nights and a day. The stream was swollen, the pond rose rapidly, and the water poured over the waste-weir a cataract, but nobody ever suspected that Richard's choice seed was in danger, until he himself got up one morning and found the pond field covered with water.

In a violent passion he flew to Joseph and blamed him with the misfortune.

"I have told you hundreds of times that you ought to have that waste-weir fixed!" exclaimed Richard, angrily. "Now your carelessness has ruined the crop I set the most by. If it had been your field, on the opposite side, which was in danger, this would not have happened."

The sensitive Joseph was deeply hurt by the insinuation of selfishness, but he answered calmly:

"Brother, you wrong me. I am sorry—"

"It is very well to be sorry after carelessness! Now tell me, if you please, whether you intend to rebuild that waste-weir or not?"

"I don't think I shall rebuild it any sooner for your domineering," he said, drily.

"You won't!" muttered Richard, through lips ashy pale with passion.—Perhaps you mean to ruin my crops every year the same! And I am to bear it, I suppose, without a murmur!"

The angry man concluded with a threat, which roused the mighty passion of his brother. Although Joseph had, the day before, made all arrangements to have the waste-weir rebuilt as soon as the dry season should come, he did not see fit to tell Richard so, but rebuked him severely for his overbearance. Fiercer words followed, ending in a bitter and lasting quarrel

In vain did James endeavor to reconcile his brothers. Richard's anger was still hot, and Joseph's indignation was deep and stern. The former declared that he could have patience no longer with one who cared only for his own interests, and the latter firmly said that he wished to have no more communication with one so passionate, so unreasonable, so little like a brother, as Richard.

But the quarrel did not end here.—Richard abused James because he defended Joseph, and Joseph blamed him for siding with Richard, and James became indignant at the conduct of both. In short, to give all the circumstances of the quarrel in detail, would fill pages—the dying counsel of old Richard Blane was forgotten, and the brothers parted in anger. Richard returned to his farm, and Joseph to his mill, leaving James alone in the old family mansion

All Millbrook was struck with astonishment and the old housekeeper was confounded. For a month the principal topic of conversation was the separation of the brothers Blane; whose quarrel was as much a godsend to the gossips and lovers of scandal, as a breach of promise or a criminal trial.

But however pleasant a subject it might be to talk about, it was a singularly unpleasant one to contemplate, for the brothers.

It is impossible to describe the discontent of Richard living with his tenant in the farm-house. Everything disgusted him, from the food he ate to the children he heard squall. The only satisfaction he enjoyed in his new situation, was the unbounded privilege of scolding; an occupation in which the fretful man continually indulged.

Joseph was no better off. The miller's family was not the most pleasant family in the world, and the miller was no associate for Joseph. The poor man had but one resource—to addict himself to study, and become a morose and melancholly man.

Nor did James, who was naturally so cheerful, and so fond of company, suffer less. He missed the society of his brothers; he was always lonely now in the old house, which seemed so empty and dreary. He could no longer bear to be at home. So he spent nearly all his time in the company which frequented his store, to the great distress of the unhappy housekeeper, who pined away like a love-sick school girl.

It was not in her social feelings alone, that the brothers suffered the consequences of their unnatural sparation. Richard now carried his grist to another mill, and it was through his influence that Joseph lost much custom.

Then both of the older brothers went a great distance ont of the way to make their store purchases at Brownsville and Smithtown, instead of obtaining their goods of James for thirty per cent. less than they paid elsewhere. Moreover, James no longer had Richard's produce and Joseph's flour to trade upon; but others enjoyed the profit, while the brothers were enjoying the quarrel.

Thus matters went on for more than a year, James anxiously waiting for Richard or Joseph to make the first advances toward a reconciliation; they waiting for each other, and the three making themselves as miserable as possible.

It was the fourth of July. Millbrook was like a great beehive. The militia were out, bayonets glittered in the sun, the roar of artillery filled the air, and a vast quantity of bad rum was consumed, in the ardor of patriotism. All good children went to the "Fourth of July Sunday School Celebrating," ate crackers and raisins, and heard an unintelligible address from the Rev. Mr. Metwhistle, while the boys performed the "Independence training," and the cannons, jokes, and firecrackers with which field and tavern were enlivened.

There was no work on the farm that day; the mill was silent, and the store was closed.

Mr. James in the forenoon patronized the dry crackers,—which he furnished the society—and the drier discourse—furnished by Mr. Metwhistle—at the S. S. Celebration; and went after dinner to an auction.

It was contrary to the custom at Millbrook to transact any business on the anniversary of our nation's independence; but a poor widow having a few household articles and farming utensils to dispose of, Millbrook had charitably offered to go and purchase them on the fourth of July afternoon.

The auction sale was at an old farmhouse, some three miles from the village, but notwithstand ng the distance, James resolved to walk thither in company with a large party of his neighbors, who otherwise went on foot. On his way the merchant perceived his two brothers who were walking on in the same direction, but with different parties; and when he reflected on the sad change which had taken place in his family within the last year and a half, he was very much cast down.

"Once we were as one man in everything," he thought. "We were strong—happy; and the world looked upon us with uncommon respect. Now, since we are divided, we are blamed by some, scorned by others, and persecuted by not a few.—People take advantage of our weakness to promote their own selfish ends, and we set them the example by injuring each other. For the past year my profits have been a mere nothing compared to what they have been heretofore."

The conversation of his companions aroused James from his reflections. The party walked leisurly to the auction, and soon after the sale commenced.

The Widow Wilson was more benefitted by patriotism in Millbrook that day, I am afraid, than anybody else. The auction affair was more creditable to humanity, and more beneficial to society, too, than all the gun firing, drinking and fighting at the "Training," and all the marching hand in-hand, eating cakes and raisins, and hearing dull speeches, at the S. S. Celebration. People bidding generously; everything went up at a high figure.—James bought a horse at ninety-three dollars—certainly all he was worth—and bid off a great variety of other articles, without much hope of being able to dispose of them at present. Richard, too, showed his patriotism, for he bought a sett of harness, a calf, and some farming utensils; and Joseph bid off a chaise.

After the auction sale, or vendue, as it was called, was over, the patriots of Millbrook gathered in groups, to discuss politics and the weather, and to offer vague surmises touching the prosperity of the nation and of the Widow Wilson, when a cry of surprise and wonder called their attention to a glare in the western sky, in the direction of the village.

"Fire! Fire!" exclaimed the awe stricken crowd.

The placid groups were in an instant heaving to and fro from consternation.—People rushed in every direction, and the few who had come on horse back or in vehicles made hasty preparations to depart. Each man seemed to think that it was his own house which was burning; and the utmost confusion prevailed.

James was holding the horse he had purchased, and which he was going to lead home by the halter. The animal was wild—he snorted and plunged, and it was with difficulty that James could hold him. The young man was in a state of great perplexity and alarm. Anxious as he was to fly to the fire, he dared not attempt to fly without a bridle. Just then, Richard hurried past him. James remembered seeing him bid off a set of harness.

"Brother, for God's sake," cried James, "lend me your blind bridle! I must ride for I think it is my store burning."

"The fire is in the direction of my house," began the excited Richard.

"Well, put the bridle on my horse, and you shall ride behind me."

"The horse won't carry double,' said a son of Widow Wilson.

"For heaven's sake, what shall we do?,, cried James. "Ah! there is Joseph; he bid off the chaise. Brother! Brother!"

Joseph turned.

"James is that you?" he said hurriedly. "My mill is on fire, I am sure.—Haven't you a sett of harness for that horse? We might put him in my chaise and drive to the village in a tenth part of the time it would take to run there—while my buildings are burning."

"Richard has a sett of harness," said James.

Not another word was spoken. It was no time for parley. In an instant the harness was dragged out of the shed, and thrown upon the horse. James and Richard buckled the harness and girths, while Joseph wheeled the chaise out of the barn. The three brothers worked in unison, as they had been accustomed to do in days gone by; and so well did they understand every movement of each other that the horse was harnessed in the thills with astonishing despatch, and they were on the road as soon as any of their neighbors, except those on foot.

Richard, with the natural energy of his character, took the reins and drove. Ned Wilson gave a whip, and away they flew with th speed of the wind. Trees, houses, fences, flew past them; foot passengers gazed on them with envy as they saw them go by; and the chaise with them was soon the foremost vehicle on the village road.

But they arrived at an impediment; they were obliged to stop. Some drunken patriots had deemed it a part of their duty in celebrating the day to roll a large log into the centre of the road, where no vehicle could pass on either side.

Joseph and James jumped out; but their united efforts were not sufficient to move the log. Richard sprang to assist them, and the three succeeded in removing the impediment. What neither one nor two were able to accomplish, was still practicable for the three united. Meanwhile the glare in the sky brightened.—Richard lashed the horse, and on they flew again. Then, as they approached the scene of the fire, and saw the smoke and the flames surge upward in the dim twilight, anxiously each looked forward to ascertain, if possible, what buildings were on fire.

"Be it so!" replied Joseph, who now felt certain that it was his mill. We could always accomplish more when united, than when our efforts were divided."

"It is true," added James. "But we have forgotten our father's dying charge. We should never have been separated."

His brothers made no answer. Richard's cheek was flushed, his lip tremulous; Joseph's brow was pale and thoughtful.

A turn in the road brought them in full view of the village. As if with one impulse the brothers rose to gize upon the fire. A glow of light fell upon their anxious faces. It was the village church which was burning!

"It is too late to save it!" said Richard. "See, the roof is all on fire!"

At that moment, a dull sound, like a smothered explosion shook the air. A cloud of smoke and ashes surged upwards, and a cry of wonder burst from the awe-stricken spectators gathered around the building. The roof had fallen in; the low belfry had plunged into the burning abyss.

Then with redoubled fury the flames burst forth. The church was all wood; and soon the crackling, blazing clapboards fell from the glowing timber frame. Joists, braces, and beams, glared in startling relief when the wind which was blowing strong from the north, drove back the out bursting smoke and flame.

Richard stopped the terrified horse at a short distance from the fire, on the north side of the church.

"How did the meeting-house take fire?" asked Joseph of an old man.

"Some careless boy must have thrown a fire-cracker through the window," was the reply. "But the alarm was given in season to save the building, if there had only been a fire-engine in the village.—And we should have had one a year ago," added the old man sternly; "if you three brothers had not acted like fools in the matter. Because James headed the subscription list to purchase an engine, you, Richard and Joseph opposed it; and so the scheme fell through."

The brothers felt the rebuke, but no reply escaped their lips.

At that moment there arose an alarming cry on the other side of the church.—Richard drove down the south road.

"Deacon Smith's house is a fire!" exclaimed Joseph.

This was too true. Deacon Smith's house situated on the opposite side of the road from the church, had been lighted by the great fire; and now the piazza was all in flames.

"Drive the horse under my shed," cried James, "and we will go together to help save Smith's house.

James' shed and house were close by; on the same side of the road with Deacon Smith's but not so near the church.

The brothers leaped to the ground.—While Richard was fastening the terrified horse to the post, James cast an anxious eye upward at the roof of his own house. He started and turned pale.

"What is that?" he cried.

"Fire!" exclaimed Joseph.

It was on the further side of the roof. James ran around behind the house followed by Joseph. It took but an instant to see what was the trouble. Some blazing combustible had fallen from the church upon the dry shingles, which were now all in a blaze.

But to reach the roof seemed impossible. The housekeeper had gone out somewhere to spend the "Fourth," and the doors were locked. In vain did James shout for help at the top of his voice; the fire on Deacon Smith's house had drawn everybody in that direction. Joseph saw but one way of getting at the roof—to burst through a window, and ascend by the stairs to the scuttle.

Joseph smashed sash and pane with an axe. He was already inside, when James bethought him that there was a ladder in his nearest neighbor's yard. To go for it, and drag it to his own door, seemed but the work of a moment. But so long and heavy was it, that all James' strength was not sufficient to raise it to the roof.—Thrice had he essayed it, when, as he was about giving up in despair, assistance came. The ladder went up in an instant; and Richard stood by his brother's side.

"We must work!" cried Richard. "In a minute we may be too late!"

The well was near; and down into the pebbly bottom flew the bucket, driven by Richard's strong hand. James ran for a pail; and in an incredibly short space of time, it was filled with water, borne up the ladder by Richard, and placed in the hands of Joseph who was standing on the roof. The burning shingles hissed and steamed; but still the fire raged. Another bucket full—another—and another, drawn by James from the well, borne up the ladder by Richard, and thrown upon the roof by Joseph—had been applied before the flames were subdued. The united strength of the brothers had conquered. What one could not have done—nor two, perhaps—had been safely accomplished by the three.

Meanwhile the flames on Deacon Smith's house had been extinguished, and of the church nothing was left but a shapeless heap of smoking, blazing ruins.

The brothers went together to the well, to bathe their burning brows, after their labors.

"Our task is done and I am thankful," said James, with much feeling. "With your help, brothers, I have saved my house—our house, rather, for it is the old family mansion. What return can I make to you, more than to invite you—cordially to invite you to the house of your father, and cheer once more with your presence and love, the house which has been so dreary and empty without you."

"I accept your kind offer, cried the impulsive Richard. As I was the first to blame, let me be the first to acknowledge my fault, and ask your forgiveness, James, and yours brother Joseph."

"You have it, Richard," exclaimed the miller. "And you will forgive me, I am sure. I have been to blame. The waste-weir should have been fixed."

"And I should not have flown into a passion about a matter which proved a benefit to my grain, after all; for you remember that, instead of drowning or washing away my spring wheat, the freshet gave it a fine start."

"Brothers," interrupted James, "let the past bury the past. Let what we have suffered in consequence of neglecting our father's dying charge, be remembered only as a lesson for the future. I feel to-day that the curse sent for our disobedience has passed away. Everything this evening has seemed as if designed by Providence to prove to us that—united, we are strong; divided we are weak."

They were once more strong—once more happy; and there was never more a thought of disunion in either of their hearts. The old housekeeper was delighted; and so had Millbrook reason to rejoice, for the first public act of the brother, after the catastrophe we have described, was to head two subscription lists—one to purchase a fire-engine, and the other to rebuild the church. Liberal were their donations; and in beautiful brotherhood were joined their autographs on the subscription paper.

Foreign News.

The daily papers, for some days past, have been filled with accounts of another great battle fought somewhere in the neighborhood of the river Mincino, but for the life of us we can not find head or tail of the account. The number of Austrians killed is put down at 35,000. In the Emperor's proclamation to his soldiers, after the battle, he states that they have taken 30 cannon and 6,000 prisoners. It is estimated that near four hundred thousand men were engaged in the battle, consequently the slaughter must have been tremendous. Another great battle is anticipated. The Austrians have thus far been driven from every position they have taken up, and their losses have been heavy. How much longer they will hold out can not be told. Prussia will ere long be into the fight.

DEATH OF JUDGE BURNSIDE.—It is our painful duty to chronicle the sudden and awful death of Hon. James Burnside, of Bellefonte, which occurred on Friday, 1st inst. The circumstances of his death are reported as follows:—He had been sitting at his door, in the evening, when his nephew, Harvey Mann, drove up in a buggy, with his mother, (a sister of Judge Burnside), who had come to pay them a visit. The horse was a new one, and after Mrs. Mann had got out, the Judge said to his nephew that he believed that he would get in and take a short drive with him. He got in, and young Mann was about following him, when he slipped, and touching the horse, started him. The reins, which had been lying loose, fell, and the horse dashed rapidly down a steep stony street. He made a short turn at a corner at the foot of the hill, and threw the Judge out. He fell violently on his head. The blood gushed from every feature, and when he was picked up he was dying. In two or three minutes from the time he left his door, full of life, health and spirits, he was carried back a bleeding corpse. The event is said to have caused great grief and consternation in the town. It was particularly felt now, as he had been instrumental in getting up a pic nic for the Fourth, and was announced to read the Declaration of Independence. Instead of attending a festal gathering, his townsmen probably attended his funeral on that day.

BUMGARDNER HOUSE.—While on a visit to Harrisburg, a few days since, we put up at the above House, near the railroad Depot, and received the hospitality of its gentlemanly and accommodating proprietors, Messrs. Stone & McCrum.—The house has but recently passed into their hands, nevertheless, it has already received that renovation and renewing which it so much needed and now wears an air of comfortable and homelike appearance, which at once makes its guests feel as if they were at home. The meals served up are equal to, yes, we will say better than those to be had at most houses of a larger class. Should any of our citizens visit Harrisburg, and some of them are doing so every day, we say to them, give the Bumgardner House a call, and we know you will not regret it.

DEMOCRATIC DELEGATE ELECTION, &c.—At a meeting of the Democratic County Committee of this county, held in Hollidaysburg on the 24th ult., it was resolved that the Democratic citizens of the several Wards, Boroughs and Townships, be notified to meet at their usual places of holding primary meetings, on Saturday, August 13th, 1859, and elect two delegates from each to meet in County Convention on the Wednesday following.—Meetings in the townships to open at 3 o'clock P. M., and continue until 5; in the boroughs to open at 7 o'clock P. M., and continue until 9 o'clock P. M.

Col. L. W. Hall, our candidate for Senator, is a man in whom the people of Blair county takes pride. His vote in the Convention, over one of our most worthy and respectable citizens, is a mark of approbation that no man for a high public office can boast of. Should he receive the nomination, which the people of Blair county ardently hope for, a majority of from twelve to fifteen hundred will be the result, because he is a man fit for the post, and will make a Senator worthy of the confidence and esteem of the people. If we elect in this district, Col. Hall is the only man that can carry a majority. Blair county will do the work.—Blair County Whig.

THE RIGHT MAN.—We observe by the Blair County papers, that our friend Lewis W. Hall, Esq., of Altoona, has been nominated by the People's Convention of that County as a candidate for State Senator. We know not whom the other counties of the district may present, but we opine no better man than Mr. Hall can be "scared up." Bold, energetic, indefatigable, a fine speaker, a good debator, and withal a true gentleman, he is in our opinion the very man to redeem the Blair and Clearfield district from the reproach of Biglerism.—Somerset Herald & Whig.

L. W. Hall, Esq., of Altoona, it will be seen carried the county triumphantly, as an aspirant for the Senatorship. He is a gentlemen of ability and industry, and if nominated by the Conference of the District will spare no pains to carry it.—Hollidaysburg Register.

It will be seen from the above that the hope of his party to carry the district is centered in Col. H. We hope he may, as he certainly should, be the choice of the Conference.

RE-NOMINATED.—We are pleased to know that the late "handsome member" from this county, in the lower House of the Legislature of this State, was nominated by acclamation at the late county Convention of the Peoples' Party. So far as we know anything about his course during last winter, and we watched it pretty closely, we believe he attended to the wants of his constituents, and the best interest of the State, in a manner satisfactory to those who reposed their confidence in him, and much better, we dare say, than one-half the members who sat with him. Mr. Burley is a gentleman in all his actions, and his unanimous re-nomination is conclusive evidence of the high regard entertained for him by his party.—With a majority of 1,000 in his favor last fall, we presume his re-election is a foregone conclusion, unless some terrible revulsion should shake the Alleghenies and frighten the voters of his party from the polls, or materially change their sentiments on political question.

THE SUN.—A new daily paper bearing the above head, has been started by Messrs Crapp & Morgan, at Harrisburg. It is well printed and its articles are gotten up in that attractive style peculiar to Crapp himself. The new paper promises to be a worthy rival of the two dailies already printed at our State Capitol. If it be true that "opposition is the life of trade," the papers of that place must be improved. We are inclined to think, however, that the daily paper business, like all others, can be "run into the ground." We hope this may not be the fate of the Sun or any of its cotemporaries.

P. S. Since the above was placed in type, we learn that the Sun has set to rise no more; cause—want of rays in the shape of silver dollars.

☞ Monsieur Blondon has just successfully accomplished the feat of walking across the Niagara River on a tight-rope in the presence of a crowd variously estimated at from five thousand to ten thousand persons. He first crossed from the American side, stopping midway to refresh himself with wine raised in a bottle with a rope from the deck of the steamer Maid of the Mist. The time occupied in the first crossing was seventeen minutes and a half. The return from the British to the American side was accomplished in twelve minutes.

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT.—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of this valuable remedy for inflammatory diseases in which will be found an account of a most wonderful cure of Inflammatory Rheumatism. "If in the multitude of counsellors there is safety," it is certainly safe for the afflicted to give the Medical Salt a trial, when it is recommended so heartily by the multitudes who have been benefitted by its use. We repeat, give the Medical Salt a trial.

☞ A number of editorial articles and local items, intended for this week's paper, have been unavoidably crowded out.

☞ Lewis C. Levin, who at one time figured as an intense native American, is now in the Philadelphia Lunatic Asylum.

☞ See advertisement of A. F. McKinny, in another column, and if you have any surplus change which you wish to invest in western lands, Aleck can attend to it in the right manner.

☞ A man was recently found dead in the cupalo of the "Mansion House," at Reading.—On a board on the inside of the cupalo, he had written, evidently when in the agonies of death: "C S. MATTHEWS, Lewistown Pa. Bury me with the honors of war, I was a soldier in Mexico.'

☞ Go to the temperance lecture this evening.

☞ The cast iron front for C. Jaggard's new building has arrived and will be put up in a few days.

☞ Highly delighted—the J. S. of A., of this place, with the celebration at Williamsburg, on the 4th. Some of them got a chance to "spout" a little.

PEN AND SCISSORS.

☞ Considerably changed—the temperature of the atmosphere within the last two weeks.

☞ The citizens of Tyrone presented a beautiful flag to the Cavalry company of that place, on the 2d inst.

☞ A fearful epidemic is raging among the hogs, at Auburn, N. Y. One thousand have died within the last two weeks.

☞ The work of macadamizing Virginia st. will have reached the crossing in front of the Superintendent's Office, by Saturday evening.

☞ Going up—four more rooms on Brant's Corner, extening the building to the alley dividing it from the Masonic Temple.

☞ Why are our "d—ls" like bombshells? Because the moment they are out of reach they are "on a bust."

☞ There is a negroe in Philadelphia who is distinguished for the size of his feet; they measure 21 inches in length.

☞ The Tyrone Star appeared on Saturday week printed with red ink on the outside and blue inside, emblematical of our national colors.

☞ An English missionary, now in Sumatra, lately wrote that he "had the melancholy satisfaction of examining the oven in which his predecessor was cooked."

☞ The failure of the Secretary of the S. S. Association to furnish us with a copy of the proceedings of last meeting, will account for their non-appearance this week.

☞ A gentleman in the West, with whom we are unacquainted, writes us, "please put me down as a subscriber to your paper." Certainly, sir, as soon as you put us down $1,50.

☞ Hon. D. F. Robison, ex-member of Congress from the Franklin District, died at Chambersburg, on the 24th inst., from disease which he contracted at the National Hotel, in Washington, in the spring of 1857.

☞ The presentation of a handsome Bible to the Division of Sons of Temperance came off according to announcement in our last. We shall publish the presentation and reception speeches in our next.

☞ We heard a good story told lately of an Irish lady of this town who discovered a spotted land tortoise while gathering berries, and in great tribulation called on her company to come and see a rattle snake with the box with the rattles in on its back.

☞ In one of the counties of Wisconsia, it is said that there are three candidates for the Legislature; J. M. Root, Democrat; Robert Hogg, Free Soil, and T. H. Dye, Whig.—So on the election day, it will be "Root, Hog, or Die" with the voters.

☞ The committee appointed by the Fire Company of this place, to wait upon our citizens and receive their contributions and subscriptions towards purchasing a fire engine, will attend to that duty during the present week.—The following gentlemen compose the committee:—North Ward—A. Kipple, Wm. Bartley, W. H. Nichols. W. Ward—W. W. Smith. J. K. Russel, F. Shillinger. E. Ward—A. A. Smythe, C. R. McCrea, A. Maxwell.

☞ The latest and most wonderful cure effected by a patent medicine, recorded, is the following: A boy had swallowed a silver dollar. None of the faculty could devise an alleviation; whereupon the inventor of patent medicine was sent for. "It is evident," said he, "that so considerable a coin can never be forced up by any emetic known to science. However, let him take this pill and flattering consequences will be likely to ensue." An hour afterwards the boy threw up the dollar, all in small change, principally five cent pieces.

EXCHANGE HOTEL.—THE SUBSCRIBER would respectfully inform the public that he has recently refitted the above Hotel, and is now prepared to accommodate his friends and patrons in a comfortable manner, and he will spare no pains in making it an agreeable home for all sojourners. His Table will always be luxuriously supplied from the markets of the country and cities, and his Bar filled with liquors of choice brands. His charges are as reasonable as those of any other Hotel in the place, and he feels satisfied they can not be complained of by those who favor him with their custom. Expecting to receive a share of public patronage, and fully intending to deserve it, he throws open his house to the public and invites a trial.

I have just received a stock of No. 1 French Brandy, for medicinal purposes.

Also a large stock of excellent Wines, for medicinal purposes, together with a lot of the best old Rye Whiskey to be found in the country.

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT.

Read the Following Certificate to the Efficacy of this Medicine in Inflammatory Diseases.

"For the last twelve years I have been more or less troubled with Inflammatory Rheumatism, commencing early in the Spring, and lasting until cold weather set in, when I would be relieved for a while, only to be attacked again in the Spring. All my joints would swell and be very sore, attended with the most acute pain. My feet, shoulders, arms, and hands troubled me most, so much so that I could scarcely walk, and almost always required assistance in dressing. During this time I would try everything I could hear of, in the hope of finding a cure. I also tried several physicians, but nothing seemed to help me the least in the world. About two and a half years ago I was attacked as usual, and as usual tried everything to get rid of it, but to no purpose. I kept growing worse, and finally had to give up and stay in the house, where I was confined about four weeks. This time my feet swelled, and were so sore that I could not stand on them or get on my boots, and my hands swelled to twice their usual size. In fact, I was, to all appearances and belief, totally used up. About this time my parents, who reside in Maine, sent for me to come home. I went and after my arrival I commenced trying another remedy, hoping to be cured, but resulting the same as all others. For weeks I had not been able to dress myself or to raise my hand to my head, and suffering the most excruciating pain all the time.—One day my father came in with a paper in which was advertised Dr. Coggswell's MEDICAL SALT, for Inflammatory Diseases only, and wanted me to read and see what I thought of it. I read and laughed at it, pronounced it a humbug, and told him that I had been humbugged enough. He kept urging me, and at last said I could but try it, and if I would write to Dr. C., giving him a description of my disease, he would pay the expense. Of course I could not refuse such an offer and sent for one box. It came in due season, but my faith was not increased, and I laughed at the idea of so small a dose doing me any good, and told my wife that I believed Dr. C. and his Salt both humbugs.—However, I commenced using it and the result was perfectly astonishing. I could hardly realise it myself. I slept soundly all night, which I had not done for a long time, and when I awoke in the morning, strange as it may seem, I was entirely free from pain. I had then taken but one dose, and bathed freely before going to bed. That morning I felt so well that I hardly knew how to contain myself, and went down stairs and told the folks how well I felt, and from that day to this I have not suffered one moment's pain or had an attack of my once dreaded enemy, Rheumatism. I am perfectly well and hearty, and wherever I have a chance I recommend it. A friend of mine, residing in Brooklyn, is now trying it for a bad case of neuralgic rheumatism, and so far it is working admirably.—This is a long story, but I have told all the facts, which I can bring witnesses to substantiate if necessary; and will again say that in the MEDICAL SALT, a sure cure may be found for all inflammatory diseases, and would urge all who are afflicted to give it a trial. GEO. H. DUNCAN.

No. 117 Wall Street, New York.

When it is remembered that the MEDICAL SALT is as efficacious in all other Inflammatory diseases as in Rheumatism, (see descriptive circulars) it will at once be seen that it is a most valuable remedy. Surely those thus afflicted will find in their own condition and in the above statements enough to induce them to give the MEDICAL SALT a trial.

Price $1,00; Chromic packages, $2,50.

NEW AGRICULTURAL SETTLEMENT.—To all wanting Farms, a rare opportunity in a delightful and healthy climate 35 miles Southeast of Philadelphia, on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad New Jersey.

An old estate consisting of several thousands of acres of productive soil has been divided into Farms of various sizes to suit the purchaser. A population of some Fifteen Hundred, from various parts of the Middle States and New England have settled there the past year, improved their places, and raised excellent crops. The price of the land is at the low sum of from $15 to $20 per acre, the soil is of the best quality for the production of Wheat, Clover, Corn, Peaches, Grapes and Vegetables. IT IS CONSIDERED THE BEST FRUIT SOIL IN THE UNION. The place is perfectly secure from frosts—the destructive enemy of the farmer. Crops of grain, grass and fruit are now growing and can be seen. By examining the place itself, a correct judgment can be formed of the productiveness of the land. The terms are made easy to secure the rapid improvement of the land, which is only sold for actual improvement. The result has been, that within the past year, some three hundred houses have been erected, two mills, one steam, four stores, some forty vineyards and Peach orchards planted, and a large number of other improvements, making it a desirable and active place of business.

THE MARKET,

as the reader may perceive from its location, is the BEST IN THE UNION.

Produce bringing double the price than in locations away from the city, and more than double the price than in the West. It is known that the earliest and best fruits and vegetables in this latitude come from New Jersey, and are annually exported to the extent of millions.

In locating here, the settler has many advantages. He is within a few hours ride of the great cities of New England and Middle States, he is near his old friends and associations, he is in a settled country where every improvement of comfort and civilization is at hand. He can buy every article he wants at the cheapest price, and sell his produce for the highest, (in the West this is reversed,) he has schools for his children, divine service, and will enjoy an open winter, and delightful climate, where fevers are utterly unknown. The result of the change upon those from the north, has generally been to restore them to an excellent state of health.

In the way of building and improving, lumber can be obtained at the mills at the rate of $10 to $15 per thousand. Bricks from the brick yard opened in the place, every article can be procured in the place, good carpenters are at hand, and there is no place in the Union where buildings and improvements can be made cheaper.

The reader will at once be struck with the advantages there presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before. The reason is, it was never thrown in the market; and unless these statements were correct, no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will see that under cultivation, such is the extent of the settlement that they will no doubt, meet persons, from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements and can judge the character of the population. If they come with a view to settle, they should come prepared to stay a day or two and be ready to purchase, as locations cannot be held on refusal.

There are two daily trains to Philadelphia, and to all settlers who improve, the Railroad Company gives a Free Ticket for six months, and a half-price Ticket for three years.

THE TOWN OF HAMMONTON.

In connection with the agricultural settlement, a new and thriving town has naturally arisen, which presents inducements for any kind of business, particularly stores and manufactories. The Shoe business could be carried on in this place and market to good advantage, also cotton business, and manufactories of agricultural implements or Founderies for casting small articles. The improvement has been so rapid as to insure a constant and permanent increase of business. Town lots of a good size, we do not sell small ones, as it would effect the improvement of the place, can be had at from $100 and upwards.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly literary and agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, can be obtained at 25 cents per annum.

Title indisputable—warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumbrance when money is paid. Route to the land—leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia for Hammonton by Railroad, at 7¼ A. M., or 4½ P. M. Fare 90 cents. When there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding conveniences on hand. Parties had better stop with Mr. Byrnes, a principal, until they have decided as to purchasing, as he will show them over the land in his carriage, free of expense. Letters and applications can be addressed to Landis & Byrnes, Hammonton P. O., Atlantic Co., New Jersey, or S. B. Coughlin, 202 South Fifth Street, Philadelphia.—Maps and information cheerfully furnished.

LOCAL ITEMS.

THE FOURTH IN ALTOONA.—Although but little preparation, comparatively speaking, had been made for the proper observance of this day in Altoona, the demonstrations were equal to if not more imposing than those of last year.—The two military companies of the place had united and agreed upon celebrating the day in Beale's woods, and invited the citizens of the town and vicinity to join with them, and we are pleased to say that the invitation was very generally accepted.

At an early hour on the morning of our natal day, we were awakened by music discoursed by our excellent Brass Band, on its way to the top of the hill above West Altoona, followed by the military Companies. On arriving at the summit the Band played a number of national airs and the companies fired several salutes. This brought out Young America and any quality of fire-crackers, pistols and miniature cannon with which the noise was kept up and the atmosphere deeply impregnated with the oder of burnt powder.

At about ten o'clock the military companies drew up in line on Annie street, in front of the Masonic Temple, where they were joined by a company of 34 little girls dressed in white, and wearing blue sashes, to which were attached the names of the States they represented.—They were under the charge of George B. Cramer, Esq., who we have no doubt felt proud of his company, and well he might, for the reason that they formed on this occasion, as on a previous one, by far the most pleasing and imposing part of the procession, and were the observed of all observers.

All things being now ready, the line of march was taken up and the whole town, it appeared, followed the procession to the grove. On arriving at the grove, the assemblage was joined by the officers of Tyrone military companies, who were brought out from Hollidaysburg, whither they had gone to attend the military election. After a short time spent in arranging the preliminaries, the assemblage was called to order by appointing Capt. Jas. Bell, of Tyrone, President of the meeting, Jesse Smith, James Mann, Daniel McCoy and E. B. McCrum, Vice Presidents, and Dr. J. T. Christy and J. G. Adlum, Esq., Secretaries. The meeting being thus organized, the exercises were continued in the following order

1st. Prayer by Rev. J. Steck.

2nd. Music by the Band.

3rd. Reading of the Declaration of Independence, by Geo. B. Cramer, Esq.

4th. Song, "Red White and Blue," by Capt. James Bell.

5th. Address, by Col. L. W. Hall, on the character of Washington, the times and trials of the men who formed the instrument, the adoption of which the people of the Union were celebrating for the 84th time, together with a short sketch of the history of our country down to the present time. His effort was worthy the man and the occasion, and was listened to with attention. At the close of the address, three cheers were given for Washington, three for the day we celebrate, three for the orator of the day and three for the President of the meeting, after which the assemblage was dismissed for a few minutes to give the Committee of Arrangements time to spread the festal board with the many delicacies provided for the occasion. The table having been arranged, the crowd was called up to partake of the repast. A committee to receive and prepare toasts having been appointed, presented the following which were read:—

By Lieut. F. M. Bell. The day we celebrate.
By Lieut. J. Burley. The ladies and citizens of Altoona.
By Capt. J. Crowther. The military of Altoona.
By Capt. H. W. Snyder. The memory of Washington—may it ever inspire every son of Columbia to preserve our liberty unsullied.
By John Allison. The Declaration of Independence—May it ever awaken patriotic emotions in the hearts of all true Americans.
By a member of Tyrone Artillery. Thos. A. Scott, the gentlemanly Superintendent of the Penn'a R. R. Long may he wave.
By the same. Geo. B. Cramer, Esq.—The model diagbet of the Penn'a R. R. We tender him our sincere thanks.
By F. M. B. Gen. B. F. Bell—May his shadow never grow less.
By the same. The American Eagle—May she never loose a feather from her wing.
By a member of the Guards. Pennsylvania—May she ever remain the Keystone of our glorious Union and bind together North, South, East and West.
By Lieut. J. Burley. Gen. Washington—First in war, first in Peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen.
By J. G. Adlum. May the Sons of '59 emulate the virtues and patriotism of the Sires of '76.
By A. C. G. May the ladies of 1859 ever be as patriotic as Lady Washington of 1776, who heard the report of the first and last cannon that was fired during the American Revolution.
By A. C. Gwinn. As the Fourth of July visits us in its annual round, may every American citizen remember the hardships and perils which our fore-fathers endured in the war of Independence, which gained for us our freedom from a monarchial government and gave to us that liberty which protects us while assembled here in this beautiful grove partaking of the pleasures of this life and the bountifulness of our land.
By L. W. H. The military from abroad—A more magnificent set of men our eyes never beheld. Long may they wave, and on succeeding anniversaries grace us with their presence.
By Wm. Henderson. The ladies of Altoona—May they be often in arms but never in battle.
By Fourth of July. Independence and lager beer—Liberty and pic nics forever more.
By a High Private of Company A. The ladies of 1859—May they ever be as willing to give up their brass hoops to make cannon balls, if needed, as the ladies of 1776 were to give their skirts to Gen. Washington to make catridges at the battle of Bunker hill.

Dinner over and the reading of the toasts concluded, the assemblage dispersed to various parts of the grove, each one seeking that source of pleasure most congenial to his or her feelings. A number of swings had been put up and they were well occupied during the entire day. A platform had been lain down on which quite a number of lads and lasses spent the afternoon in "tipping the light fantastic toe" to the music of an excellent string band which had been engaged for the occasion.

At three o'clock the military formed into line and marched to town to receive the Tyrone Artillery, who had been brought up on the Local Freight Train, free of charge, in a car sent down especially for their accommodation. After receiving them, the three companies marched out to the grove again, where they were soon after joined by the Allegheny Cavalry with Gen. Bell at their head. Everything passed off in the most pleasant manner, each one endeavoring to contribute to the happiness and pleasure of the visitors and all with whom they mingled.

At six o'clock the procession reformed and returned to town. After marching though several of the principal streets, the military were dismissed.

Quite a number of the military and others having collected in the vicinity of the depot to bid good bye to the visiting company from Tyrone, Master George Plummer was called out to make a speech, and responded in a manner which astonished as well as pleased all who heard him. Capt. Bell entertained the crowd by singing a number of patriotic songs, until the arrival of the Fast Line, on which the visiting company and other military gentlemen took passage for their homes.

From the hour of twilight until near midnight, the town was illuminated with Rockets, Roman Candles and Bengola Lights, giving it the appearance of a bombarded fortress The night was beautiful.

Thus passed the 4th of July 1859, in Altoona. Not a single incident occurred to man the pleasure of any one. We observed a few persons who had taken on a little heavier load of bricks than they were able to carry, but they managed to keep down their angry passions, consequently there was no quarrelling. May each return of our natal day pass over as pleasantly as did the last.

Grand Commander; Sir C. F. Knapp, V. E. Dep. G. C.; Sir J. A. Wright, D. G. G. Re. Sir B. R. Waugh, E. G. P.; Sir J. L. Hutchison, E. G. C. G.; Sir A. Creigh, E. G R.

The anual meeting of the Grand Council of Royal & Select Masters, which met on the same day, elected the following officers for the ensuing year:—M. P. G. M., Alfred Creigh, No. 1, Washington; R. P. G. M. E. K. Turner, No. 9, Altoona; R. P. G. I. M., C. F. Knapp; No. 10, Bloomsburg; R. P. G. G. of G., T. D. Watson, No. 11. Philadelphia; R. P. G. R., Jas. Lindsey, No. 3. Waynesburg; R. P. G. L., R. A. Lamberton, No. 7. Harrisburg; R. P. G. Chaplains, Rev. A. B. Clarke, J. Dougherty, B. R. Waugh. A. A. Reese; R. P. G. M., John Gutshall, No. 5. Carlisle.

The next annual meeting of the above societies will be held at Reading, in June, 1860.

CITIZENS PIC NIC.—A number of our citizens desiring to enjoy themselves apart from the military celebration on the Fourth, joined together and betook themselves to the grove immediately back of West Ward School House, where they passed the day very pleasantly. A table was spread and ladened with a bountiful supply of luxuries, of which all who visited the grove were invited to partake. After dinner, as in such cases made and provided, every one was free to seek that which would afford the most pleasure. A platform was laid down, on which quite a number passed the afternoon in keeping time to the music of an excellent string band from Harrisburg, engaged for the occasion. We were not present at any time during the day, but we have been informed by those who were in attendance, that they could not have enjoyed themselves better. Everything passed off so harmoniously and pleasantly that all were loath to leave the grove in the evening.

ENCAMPMENT.—A meeting of the officers of the several military companies in the northern part of county, was held at the Exchange Hotel in this place, on the evening of the 4th inst., at which it was resolved that a Camp of Military Instruction be held at Tyrone City, to commence on the 12th of September next The following officers were appointed a committee to invite all the companies of Blair and adjoining counties to join in the Encampment, viz:—Capt. Jacob Szink, Capt. H. W. Snyder, Capt. David Stitler, Capt. A. S. Morrow, Capt. J. Bell Capt. W. L. Neff, and Capt A. M. Lloyd. The following persons were appointed a committee of arrangements:—Lieut. R. Galbraith, Lieut. J. Burley, Lieut. J. W. Gardner. Capt. J. Crowther, Lieut. Hostetter, Maj. H. Wayne, Lieut. J. G. Ebling, Lieut. W. H. Henderson, Capt. Jas. Bell, and Lieut. Shillinger.

FIRE.—About 1 o'clock on Sunday morning last, our citizens were aroused from their slumbers by the cry of "fire!" and the ringing of the alarm bell. On repairing to the depot, to which all appeared to be hastening, the cause of the alarm was found to be the burning of the house on one of the locomotives standing in the Half-Round-House. A plentiful supply of water was soon thrown upon the flames and the fire extinguished. No damage, other that the destruction of the house, was done. We did not learn how the fire originated.

RELIGIOUS.—On Sabbath last, the congregation in attendance at the Methodist Church, had the pleasure of listening to a most excellent and impressive sermon, delivered by Rev. Dr. Roe, from the words, "Hope maketh not ashamed." The age and reverential appearance of the speaker, and the animation which the repetition of the words of the text appeared to excite within him, visibly affected the entire audience. In the evening the pulpit was filled by Prof. Gaddis, of Cincinnati, now on a tour addressing Sabbath Schools and lecturing on Temperance.

In the morning, the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church was filled by Rev. McClaren, of Westmoreland county, who has been appointed to this charge to fill the place of Rev. A. B. Clark, the pastor in charge, who is now laboring under an affection of the throat, which prevents him from performing pulpit duties. In the evening the pulpit was filled by Rev. Barrett, of Mount Pleasant, Armstrong county.

The second quarterly meeting for the present Conference year, will be held in the M. E. Church on Saturday evening next. The first services will commence at a quarter before 8 o'clock. It is expected that Rev. Geo. Guyer, P. E., will be present and conduct the exercises.

For The Tribune.

A Session of the Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance will be held on Wednesday, July 27th, in the Masonic Temple in this place, and on the evening of the same day, a temperance mass meeting will be held in the Methodist Church, on which occasion addresses will be delivered by H. R. Smith, G. W. P., Wm. Nicholson, G. S. and others. We trust the importance of the cause is of sufficient magnitude to elicit a geneneral attendance of its friends, apart from the popularity of the speakers whom we expect to address us.

GOOD WHEAT.—Mr. D. R. Miller, of the "Logan House," in this place, brought into our office, one day last week, a bunch of wheat containing 69 stalks—every stalk having a perfect head—all produced from one grain. It was of the Tennessee White Wheat seed and raised on his farm at Sewickley, west of the Alleghenies. He informed us that a bunch containing 76 stalks had been found in the same field, but was cut down before it was discovered. He cut 150 dozen of this wheat from 4 acres of ground. It had not been injured in the least by the frost, the heads were large and the grains well filled. We consider this wheat hard to beat.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—It is again our pleasure to announce that we are to be favored with another temperance lecture, by Prof. Gaddis, of Cincinnati, to be delivered in the Methodist Church, on Thursday evening next. We need not urge those who had the pleasure of hearing the Prof. G's lecture before the Methodist Sabbath School, on Sunday afternoon last, or his sermon in the same church in the evening, to attend his lecture, as they will turn out en masse. To those who did not hear him we would say, do not miss this treat. Let the church be filled.

PIC NICS.—This day two weeks ago, the Select School under the charge of Mrs. and Miss King, and the United Brethren Sunday School, spent the day in a manner delightful to the scholars, the former in a grove near the residence of Peter Miller and the latter in Beale's Woods, South of town. The weather was all that could be desired, neither too hot nor too cool. Everything passed off pleasantly as it should on such occasions, and the pleasant countenance of the children, on their return in the evening, betokened the pleasure they had enjoyed.

FRUIT TREES.—We would direct the attention of those of our readers who wish to set out fruit trees this fall, to the advertisement of Mr. R. B. Taylor, in another column. Mr. Taylor has a fine nursery, in the west end of town, containing several thousand trees of all kinds which will be ready for transplanting this season.—He understands the business perfectly and has given much attention to his stock, and we can confidently recommend it to those who wish fruit trees of almost any kind.

FIRE IN MARTINSBURG.—On Saturday week a fire broke out in the stable of Rev. Mr. Graham in the above named place, in this county, which consumed the building and also a carriage worth $150. Several buildings in the immediate vicinity caught fire, but through the extra exertions of the citizens of the place, but little damage was done them. The fire originated through the carelessness of some boys who had crept into the stable to enjoy a smoke.

SEVERELY BEATEN.—On the evening of the 4th inst., a band of ruffians assaulted and severely beat Charles Fleck, engineer on the Mail Train, while passing along one of the streets of Harrisburg, injuring him so much that he was unable to take charge of his engine for several days. Harrisburg is becoming notorious for the number and attrocity of assaults made on individuals passing through its streets.

TAYLOR'S SALOON.—If you wish a glass of soda water—cool and refreshing—or a glass of mead, or lemonade, in fact anything in the line of cooling summer beverages, call at Taylor's Saloon, next door to the Bank. If you wish a saucer of ice cream, pickled oysters, cakes, pies, nuts, fruits, confectionaries, &c., call at the same place, and you will be accommodated in Isaiah or Lige's best style.

THE CROPS.—Notwithstanding the fears entertained by the farmers in this vicinity respecting the wheat crop, we are pleased to learn that it promises to yield much bettter than for several years past. The grain is better filled will make better flour, and the yield per dozen will be much larger than heretofore. This is certainly cheering news.

COOL WEATHER.—The first few days of last week were about cool enough for comfort—in fact the mornings were a little too much so.—We were informed that there was snow on the top of the Alleghenies on Sunday evening week, but it strikes us that that was a little too cool a joke to perpetrate upon us in the month of July.

S. OF T.—On Saturday evening 2nd inst., the following persons were installed as officers of Altoona Division, No. 311, Sons of Temperance, viz:—W. P., Chas. R. McCrea; W. A., George R. Everson; R. S., A. D. Cherry; A. R. S., John W. Clabaugh; F. S., Jacob Reaner; T., Michael Clabaugh; C., D. Galbraith; A. C., Alex. Boggs; I. S., Wm. Marshall; O. S., John Hamilton; Chaplain, Wm. C. McCormick.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PIC NIC.—On Sabbath last, the officers and teachers of the Methodist Sunday School, in this place, decided upon giving the scholars a pic nic, to come off on Wednesday next, 20th inst. A committee of arrangements was appointed to fit up the ground, &c., and a general invitation is extended to the parents of the scholars and the friends of the school to unite in the pic nic.

I. O. R. M. PIC NIC.—The members of Winnebago Tribe, I. O. of R. M., of this place, are getting up a pic nic excursion, to come off on the 27th of this month, to proceed to John Frees' Fountain Inn, on the line of the old Portage Rail Road, above Duncansville. We hope they may have a pleasant day for their excursion and enjoy all they anticipate.

MILITARY MEETING.—A meeting will be held at the Altoona House, in this place, on Wednesday evening next, for the purpose of taking the initiatory steps toward forming a new military company. All who desire to enroll themselves on the list of members are invited to be present.

MODERN INVENTIONS.

We know of no invention of modern times that deserves or is destined to occupy a higher niche in the temple of fame, than the discovery or invention of the Vegetable Epileptic Pills, for curing Epilepsy, or Falling Fits, Spasms, Cramps, and all the various modifications of Nervous Disease. Dr. Seth S. Hance, of 108 Baltimore st., Baltimore, Md., the inventor, is certainly entitled to the best wishes of all the benevolent portion of mankind, who experience a pleasure in the alleviation of human suffering. When Dr. Hance first prepared these Pills, he intended them solely for Fits, Cramps and Spasms; but subsequent experience satisfactorily proved to him, that in addition to their remarkable sanative properties in this class of diseases, they exerted a perfect control over the nervous system. He was then induced to try them in cases of Neuralgia, Tic Doloreaux, Nervous Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Incipient Paralysis, Hysteria, Muscular Debility, and a host of minor diseases, springing from a lack of nervous energy, in all of which his anticipations were crowned with the most sanguine success. Persons at a distance, by writing and sending a remittance to Dr. Hance, can have the medicine forwarded by mail to their post office address, he paying the postage. The prices are for a single box $3, two boxes, $5, or $24 per dozen. We have given his address above.

Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR, and nothing else, will allay inflammation at once, and make a certain cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR will cure the following among a great catalogue of diseases: Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Chafes, Sore Nipples, Corns, Bunions, Bruises, Sprains, Bites, Poison, Chilblains, Piles, Scrofula, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Felons, Ear Ache, Piles, Sore Eyes, Gout, Swellings, Rheumatism, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Baldness, Erysipelas, Ringworm, Barbers' Itch, Small Pox, Measles, Rash, &c., &c.

To some it may appear incredulous that so many diseases should be reached by one article; such an idea will vanish when reflection points to the fact, that the salve is a combination of ingredients, each and every one applying a perfect antidote to its opposite disorder.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR In its effects is magical, because the time is so short between disease and a permanent cure; and it is an extractor, as it draws all disease out of the affected part, leaving nature as perfect as before the injury. It is scarcely necessary to say that no house, work-shop, or manufactory should be one moment without it.

No Pain Extractor is genuine unless the box has upon it a steel plate engraving, with the name of Henry Dalley, Manufacturer.

Sold by G. W. Kessler, Altoona; George A. Jacobs, Hollidaysburg; and by all the Druggists and patent medicine dealers throughout the United States and Canadas.

DR. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS.

NEW YORK, November 20, 1852.

Knowing, from experience, the valuable qualities of Dr. McLane's Vermifuge and Liver Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburgh, I have for some time back considered it my duty, and made it my business, to make those articles known wherever I went among my friends. A short time ago I became acquainted with the case of a young girl, who seemed to be troubled with worms and liver complaint, at the same time, and had been suffering for some two months. Through my persuasion she purchased one bottle of Dr. McLane's Vermifuge, and one box of Liver Pills, which she took according to direction.—The result was, she passed a large quantity of worms, and thinks that one box more of the Pills will restore her to perfect health. Her name and residence can be learned by calling on E. L. Theals, Druggist, corner of Rutger and Monroe streets.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, manufactured by FLEMING BROS. of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine without the signature of FLEMING BROS.

TOOTHACHE.

This disease can be cured by DR. KEYSER'S TOOTHACHE REMEDY, prepared by him in Pittsburgh, Pa., which is put up in bottles and sold at 25 cents each. It is an excellent medicine, when diluted, for spongy and tender gums, and is worth ten times its price to all who need it. Sold here by G. W. Kessler. [Dec. 9, 1858-1y.

WIGS—WIGS—WIGS.

BATCHELOR'S WIGS AND TOUPEES surpass all.—They are elegant, light, easy and durable.

Fitting to a charm—no turning up behind—no shrinking off the head; indeed, this is the only Establishment where these things are properly understood and made.

BOERHAVE'S
HOLLAND BITTERS

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR DYSPEPSIA,
DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND
FEVER AND ACUE,

And the various affections consequent upon a disordered STOMACH OR LIVER,

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave: Because of its great success in the most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success, among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medical virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

CAUTION.—The great popularity of this delightful remedy has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Do not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

☞ Sold at $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, by the SOLE PROPRIETORS.

THE SECRET INFIRMITIES OF YOUTH AND MATURITY, just published Gratis, the 25th Thousand.

A few words on the Rational Treatment, without Medicine, of Spermatorrhœa or Local Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, Genital and Nervous Debility, Premature Decay of the System, Impotency and Impediments to marriage generally, by B. DE LANEY, M. D.

The important fact that many alarming complaints, originating in the imprudence and solitude of youth, may be easily removed without medicine, is in this small tract, clearly demonstrated; and the entirely new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day.

Sent to any address, gratis and post free in a sealed envelope, by remitting (post paid) two postage stamps to Dr. B. DE LANEY, 88 East 31st Street, New York City.

SUFFERING HUMANITY, READ THIS.—The undersigned takes this method of informing the public generally that there is no medicine now offered to the public that is equal to DU VALL'S GALVANIC OIL in relieving suffering humanity.

I was an observer of its effects on a friend of mine, who suffered almost everything from a neuralgic affection which resisted the best medical treatment in Centre county. We applied freely the Galvanic Oil to the painful part, and gave some inwardly, and in 20 minutes the patient was
